

Contents

List of Tables	ix
List of Figures	xi
Foreword and Acknowledgements	xviii
1. Introduction: Micro-archaeological Approaches and the Old Kincheha Homestead	1
The Old Kincheha Homestead and the west Darling region	1
The Kincheha Archaeological Research Project.....	4
Household consumption and social practices.....	4
Material culture, new materialism and social agency	7
Global history, social history, microhistory and micro-archaeology	8
Monograph outline	9
2. Britishness, Gentility and Hospitality in Australian Society	13
Introduction.....	13
The concept of Britishness	13
Britishness and social codes in Australia – manners, gentility and changing attitudes	14
Britishness and hospitality in rural Australia and the outback.....	16
Tea-drinking, gentility and Australian society.....	18
Britishness and material culture in rural Australia	19
Conclusions.....	22
3. Social Interaction and Social Networks in Outback NSW, Australia	25
Changing transport and communication systems in the west Darling region	25
Opportunities for social interaction in the Australian outback: women’s diaries and letters.....	27
Summary	31
4. Collecting, Collating and Characterising the Ceramic Fineware Remains from the Old Kincheha Homestead	33
Collecting and recording the ceramic fineware remains from OKH.....	33
Identifying and dating the finewares	34
Fabrics	34
Makers’ marks	35
Decorative motifs.....	36
Profiles.....	36
Identifying tableware and teaware sets from the Old Kincheha Homestead	37
Identifying vessels and their uses.....	39
Approaches to identifying social value among the Old Kincheha Homestead tableware and teaware sets.....	42
5. Tableware Sets at the Old Kincheha Homestead	45
Earthenware	45
Pre-1890 (Appendix 2a).....	45
Willow pattern transfer print.....	45
Albion pattern transfer print	45
Asiatic Pheasant pattern transfer print	46
Rhine pattern transfer print.....	46
Cable pattern transfer print.....	48
Mid-blue band-and-line pattern.....	48
Other transfer-printed patterns.....	49
1890–1955 (Appendices 2b–c).....	49
Cuba pattern transfer print	49
Dark blue-banded decoration.....	51
Relief-moulded decoration.....	52
Plain white body, clear glaze	58
Blue dyed-body, clear glaze	61

Miscellaneous tablewares	62
Summary	63
6. Teaware Sets at the Old Kinchega Homestead.....	65
Probably pre-1890 (Appendix 3a).....	65
Earthenware.....	65
Blue transfer-printed and sponge-printed patterns	65
Black transfer-printed patterns	66
Purple transfer-printed patterns.....	67
Green transfer-printed patterns.....	67
Brown transfer-printed patterns.....	68
Red transfer-printed patterns.....	68
Bone china	68
Blue sprig pattern.....	68
1890–1955	69
Earthenware.....	69
‘White and gold’	71
Plain white body, clear glaze	71
Unknown decoration	71
Transfer-printed.....	71
Plain cream body, clear glaze	71
Dyed-body, clear glaze	71
Teapots	71
Bone china	72
‘White and gold’	72
Plain, clear glaze.....	72
Fluted, clear glaze	74
Porcelain.....	74
‘White and gold’	74
Plain, clear glaze.....	76
Probably post-1890 (Appendix 3a).....	76
Earthenware.....	76
‘White and gold’	76
Plain, white body, clear glaze	78
Decaled	78
Bone china	78
‘White and gold’	78
Plain, clear glaze.....	79
Decaled	80
Porcelain.....	80
‘White and gold’	80
Plain, clear glaze.....	83
Decaled	85
Summary of post-1890 and probably post-1890 teawares	86
‘White and gold’ and plain white teawares.....	86
Undated	88
Earthenware.....	88
Dyed-body, clear glaze	88
White body, coloured glaze	88
Other decorated earthenware	88
Decorated bone china and porcelain.....	89
Teapots.....	89
Summary	90
7. Purchasing Tablewares and Teawares for the Kinchega Pastoral Estate: Price, Cost, Quality and Value.....	93
Availability and distribution of ceramics in Australia.....	93
Cost, quality and potential value in nineteenth- and early twentieth-century trade catalogues.....	94
The Kinchega Pastoral Estate bookkeeping records	96
Purchasing of tablewares by the Kinchega Estate (Appendix 5)	96

Purchasing of teawares by the Kinchega Estate	100
Cup sizes and occasions for drinking tea or coffee.....	102
Cost, quality and social value of the OKH tablewares	103
Cost, quality and social value of the OKH teawares.....	104
Shape and relative costs and value	105
Quality of fabric and decoration and relative value	106
Summary	107
8. Comparing Australian Households for Social Status and Social Aspirations through their Ceramic Sets	109
Introduction.....	109
Comparative urban and semi-rural sites in Australia.....	110
‘Working-class’ urban households.....	110
The Rocks, Sydney	110
Government House, Sydney – the servants’ quarters	111
Port Adelaide, South Australia.....	111
Working-class rural households	112
Dolly’s Creek, Victoria	112
Middle-class semi-rural households	112
The Lake Innes Estate, near Port Macquarie.....	112
‘Viewbank’, near Melbourne.....	112
Bean’s Parsonage, Gippsland, Victoria	112
Comparative analyses	113
Tablewares.....	113
Teawares	117
Summary	120
Concluding comments	121
9. Who Would Have Come to Dinner and Tea at the Old Kinchega Homestead: Opportunities for Social Interaction and Social Networking.....	123
Introduction.....	123
The occupants of the Old Kinchega Homestead.....	123
Opportunities for social interactions – visitors?.....	126
Pre-1890	126
Post-1890.....	127
Stopping at OKH for dinner or tea	129
Pre-1890	130
Dinner guests	130
Guests for tea.....	130
c.1890–c.1915	132
Dinner guests	132
Guests for tea.....	133
1915 to the end of the 1930s.....	134
Dinner guests	134
Guests to tea	135
1940s–1955	137
Dinner guests	137
Guests to tea	138
Serving tea or coffee at OKH.....	138
The place of the OKH occupants in the social hierarchies of western NSW and Australia.....	138
Summary	141
10. Concluding Discussion	143
Investigating social behaviour in historical archaeology.....	147
Contributions to Australian social history	152
Contributions to singularised approaches and connected social histories	154
Summary	156
Bibliography	157
Unpublished reports and manuscripts.....	157

Who Came to Tea at the Old Kinchega Homestead?

Newspapers, magazines and other archives.....157
Mail order catalogues158
Publications.....158

Appendices

Appendices 2–8 are available as a digital download

Appendix 1 Abbreviations and Glossary169
Appendix 2 Tablewares
Appendix 3 Teawares
Appendix 4 Teawares and/or Tablewares
Appendix 5 Kinchega Estate Tableware Purchases
Appendix 6 Kinchega Estate Cups and Saucers Purchases
Appendix 7 Kinchega Estate Teapots and Coffee Pots
Appendix 8 Kinchega Estate Tea and Coffee Purchases
Appendix 9 Comparative Quantities of Types of Tablewares and Teawares and their Likely Sets among Dwellings at Several Australian Sites171
Appendix 10 Known Occupants and Likely Occupants of the Old Kinchega Homestead175
Appendix 11 Figures.....177

Index 213