Contents

List of Figures xiii
List of Tables xxi
List of Abbreviations xxii
Naming Conventions and Source Material xxiii
Abstract xxiv

1. The Land of the Iceni 1
1.1. Introduction 1
1.2. The Iceni in the Late Iron Age and Early Roman Periods 2
1.3. The Boudican 'War of Independence' 3
1.4. The Civitas Icenorum 3
1.5. The Civitas Capital: Venta Icenorum 5
1.6. 'Igni atque ferro vastatum': Harried with Fire and Sword 5
1.7. How has the Icenian 'Other' been defined? 6
1.7.1. Creating the Iceni 6
1.7.2. Mapping 'Tribal Territories' 7
1.7.3. Neophiles and Neophobes 7
1.8. Summary 8

2. Understanding Change and Looking for Difference 9
2.1. Introduction 9
2.2. How do we understand cultural contact and change? 9
2.2.1. Persistent Identities: Resistance and Discrepancy 10
2.2.2. Globalisation and Connectivity 10
2.2.3. What is the power of the dispossessed? 10
2.3. How does identity relate to material culture? 11
2.3.1. Personhood and Adornment 12
2.3.2. Social Boundaries and Identity 12
2.3.3. The Material Elite Paradigm 13
2.3.4. Craft Specialisation 13
2.3.5. Coins and Identity 14
2.3.6. Hoarding and Deposition 15
2.3.7. Similar but Different: Iron Age and Roman Aesthetics 18
2.3.8. Hybridity and Creolisation 19
2.4. Research Methods 19
2.4.1. Function and Praxis 19
2.4.2. Inclusions and Exclusions 20
2.4.3. Looking for Difference 20
2.4.4. Working with Surface Finds 21
2.4.5. Potential Constraints and Bias 21
2.5. Summary 23

3. Badges of Belonging: Brooches 25
3.1. Introduction 25
3.2. Late Iron Age and Early Roman brooches 25
3.2.1. The Fibula Event Horizon 25
3.2.2. The Fibula Abandonment Horizon 26
3.3. Badges of Belonging? 26
3.3.1. Colchester Derivatives: Harlow and Rearhook 26
3.4. Brooch Manufacture 28
3.5. Brooch Moulds and Patterns 28
3.5.1. Felmingham 30
3.5.2. Brancaster 32

3.5.3. Old Buckenham ... 32
3.5.4. Venta Icenorum ... 32
3.5.5. Chediston ... 33
3.6. Hybrids and Failed Castings ... 33
3.7. 'A souvenir or a bleak survival'? ... 34
3.8. What is the evidence for cultural contact? ... 35
3.8.1. One-piece (La Tène) Brooches ... 35
3.8.2. Continental Imports ... 36
3.8.3. Drahtfibel, Nauheim and Derivatives ... 38
3.8.4. Langton Down ... 39
3.8.5. Colchester ... 43
3.8.6. Rosette/Thistle ... 44
3.9. What is the evidence for the Boudican revolt and military occupation? ... 48
3.9.1. Aucissa and Hod Hill ... 48
3.9.2. Knee ... 54
3.9.3. Discussion ... 57
3.10. Itinerant Metalworkers and the Icenian 'Other' ... 57
3.11. What is the evidence for change and hybridity? ... 60
3.11.1. Aesica ... 60
3.11.2. Colchester Derivative: Polden Hill ... 61
3.11.3. Colchester Derivative: Hinged ... 61
3.11.4. Headstud and Trumpet Brooches ... 67
3.11.5. Zoomorphic ... 70
3.11.6. Horse-and-Rider ... 75
3.12. What is the evidence for cultural resistance? ... 79
3.12.1. Plate Brooches ... 79
3.12.2. Disc Brooches ... 79
3.12.3. Dragonesque ... 82
3.12.4. Skeuomorphic ... 84
3.12.5. Discussion ... 86
3.13. What is the evidence for the 'Fibula Abandonment Horizon'? ... 86
3.13.1. Penannulars ... 87
3.14. Parish Case Studies ... 87
3.14.1. Thetford ... 88
3.14.2. Hockwold-cum-Wilton ... 88
3.14.3. Charsfield ... 90
3.14.4. Wicklewood ... 90
3.14.5. Walsingham/Wighton ... 91
3.14.6. Hacheston ... 92
3.14.7. Wenhaston ... 93
3.14.8. Coddenham ... 94
3.14.9. Wimblington ... 94
3.14.10. Saham Toney ... 96
3.14.11. Caistor St Edmund ... 96
3.15. Summary ... 97

4. Ornamenting the Person: Wealth you could Wear ... 99
4.1. Introduction ... 99
4.2. Fasteners ... 99
4.2.1. 'Sitting awkwardly on the cultural fence'? ... 100
4.3. A Common Visual Repertoire ... 102
4.4. Wide-Cuff Bracelets (Armillae) ... 103
4.5. Snake Jewellery ... 108
4.6. Torcs ... 111
4.7. Case Study: Snettisham ... 113
4.7.1. Torc Hoards from Ken Hill ... 114
4.7.2. The Snettisham Jeweller's Hoard ... 115
4.7.3. Discussion ... 116
4.8. Summary ... 117

5. Personal Grooming: Display of the Self 119
5.1. Introduction 119
5.2. Public or Private Grooming? 119
5.3. Cosmetic Grinders 120
5.3.1. 'Woad-stained Britons'? Tattooing and Body Art 124
5.3.2. Zoomorphic and Phallic Terminals 124
5.3.3. Loop Types 125
5.3.4. Manufacture 125
5.3.5. Cosmetic Palettes 130
5.3.6. Discussion 131
5.4. Nail Cleaners 131
5.4.1. Loop Types 134
5.4.2. Châtelaine Brooches 134
5.4.3. Negotiated Identities and Creolisation 138
5.5. Iron Age Mirrors 138
5.6. Romano-British mirrors 139
5.6.1. Stanley Avenue, Norwich 141
5.7. Summary 141

6. Making an Offering: Votive Miniatures and Figurines 145
6.1. Introduction 145
6.2. Magical and Ritual Practices 145
6.3. Ritualisation as Power and Practice 146
6.4. Deposition and Intentionality 146
6.5. Religious Regalia 147
6.6. Votive Jewellery 147
6.7. Votive Miniatures 147
6.7.1. Weapons and Tools 149
6.7.2. Axes 149
6.7.3. Wheels 154
6.7.4. Leaf/Feather Plaques 156
6.7.5. Anatomical Models 156
6.7.6. Phallic Amulets 157
6.8. Pipeclay Figurines 157
6.8.1. Venus and the Mother-Goddess 159
6.8.2. Mercury 163
6.8.3. Apollo and the Thorn-Puller 'Spinario' 163
6.8.4. Zoomorphics 164
6.8.5. Arrington 164
6.8.6. Godmanchester 165
6.8.7. Discussion 166
6.9. Summary 166

7. Writing and Sealing: A New Lexicon of Power 169
7.1. Introduction 169
7.2. Writing Power 170
7.3. Magical Literacy 170
7.3.1. The Billingford Lamella 171
7.3.2. Curse Tablets 171
7.4. Minerva Wax Spatula Handles 172
7.5. Seal-boxes 173
7.5.1. Distribution and Chronology 173
7.5.2. What did Seal-boxes do? 176
7.5.3. What do Seal-boxes want? 177
7.6. Case Study: Venta Icenorum 178
7.6.1. Seal-boxes 178
7.6.2. Intaglios and Seal-rings 178
7.7. Case Study: Walsingham 180
7.8. Comparative Material from the Netherlands 180
7.9. Summary 181

8. Icenia: The Kingdom of the Horse 183
8.1. Introduction 183
8.2. The Ancient Horse 183
8.3. The Symbolic Horse 185
8.4. Breeding and Training 185
8.5. Horse and Chariot Equipment 186
8.6. Terret Rings 188
8.6.1. Simple Terrets 188
8.6.2. Knobbed and Lipped Terrets 190
8.6.3. Flat-Ring Terrets 190
8.6.4. Platform-Decorated Terrets 190
8.6.5. Parallel-Wing and Transverse-Wing Terrets 192
8.6.6. Dropped-Bar and Protected-Loop Terrets 193
8.6.7. Discussion 195
8.7. Bridle-Bits and Cheekpieces 197
8.8. Linch-pins 199
8.9. Miniature Terrets 201
8.10. Harness Hoards and Production 203
8.10.1. Westhall and Waldringfield 203
8.10.2. Santon 205
8.10.3. Saham Toney 205
8.10.4. Colne Fen 206
8.10.5. Discussion 207
8.11. Summary 208

9. Conclusions and Future Research 209
9.1. Introduction 209
9.2. Is there a distinctive material culture which can be identified with 'the Iceni'? 209
9.3. Were personal belongings used to show resistance to Roman influence? 211
9.4. What evidence is there for the post-rebellion famine, depopulation and reallocation of land? 212
9.5. The Object Abandonment Horizon 213
9.6. The Iceni Menagerie: Zoomorphics 215
9.7. How do metal-detector finds impact on the archaeological interpretation of the region? 216
9.8. The Great Estuary 216
9.9. Summary 217

Bibliography 219

Appendix A. Methodology and Data Collection 235
Historic Environment Records 235
The Portable Antiquities Scheme 235
Variability in Recording 236
Locational Information 236
Grey Literature and the Roman Rural Settlement Project 237
Excavated Sites 237

Appendix B. Morphological Bias: A Response to Cool and Baxter 238
Interviews with Metal-Detectorists 238
Morphological Bias in Metal-Detector Finds 238
Research Implications 240

Appendix C. Brooch Date Ranges 241

Appendix D. Harness Date Ranges 242

Index 243

Digital dataset is available at https://doi.org/10.30861/9781407357010.dataset1