

Contents

List of Figures.....	vii
List of Tables.....	xii
Abstracts .....	xiii
Introduction: H<sub>2</sub>Oxford. Water flowing through archaeology.....	1
Cristina Laurenti and John Dinges
1. Mediterranean ports of interactions: Aegean and Southern Italy in the Late Bronze Age .....	5
Angela Falezza
2. Sea as a barrier, not a bridge. The Third Punic War and the end of the Punic “colonisation” of Mallorca.....	17
Joel Bellviure
3. Meandering to the Mediterranean: how did the Romans transport Pavonazzetto marble from the quarry of Dokimeion to the sea? .....	29
Sean Silvia
4. Non-intrusive methodology for the documentation of underwater cultural heritage: practical implementation on El Anclote, a shipwreck from the 2nd century AD in the Bay of Algeciras (Spain) .....	41
Soledad Solana Rubio, Felipe Cerezo Andreo, Raúl González Gallero
5. Monitoring shipwreck sites in the North Sea using multibeam echosounders.....	51
Jordy Moies, Samuel Deleu, Kalliopi Baika
6. Results of preliminary research on cuniculi (shaft-and-tunnel water systems) in ancient Italy.....	65
Christina Monroe
7. Hydraulic structures in the Roman buildings for spectacles in Hispania. Balance of findings and references.....	75
Julián Aponte-Henao
8. Practical usage of water at sanctuaries: sacred meals and cooking methods at the Fondo Patturelli sanctuary in ancient Capua (Italy) .....	87
Elisabetta di Virgilio
9. From confiscation to context and conservation: a new integrated 3D technology methodology for the Amalfi seabed amphorae .....	101
Savannah Ulalian Bishop
10. ‘Blood red prows’: exploring identity, distinction, and re-use of materials in the context of Viking Age ship vanes .....	109
Erin Migneco
11. Rejuvenation, sexuality, and speech act: The “Fountain of Youth” motif on ivory materials in Europe in the 14–15th centuries.....	137
Guo Peng Chen
12. On the role of Roman education and numerology for the descriptions of river deltas: a case study in Roman cosmography.....	147
Pascal Hoffmann
13. Shellfish consumption on Iona, Scotland: a re-interpretation of marine mollusc harvesting in an early medieval seascape .....	167
John Angus Macaulay

14. Memory and landscape stability on the Welsh Severn Estuary: prehistoric landscape use in a dynamic coastal environment .....	175
Christopher Dwan
15. Wet feet. Funnel Beaker monuments and waterscape entanglement in the Elbe-Weser Triangle, Germany .....	185
Tjaark Siemssen
16. Rituals, rivers, and the Romans: deconstructing the significance of rivers in Roman Britain .....	195
Deanna K. Cunningham
17. Karstic geography and political ecology in the Yucatan: liminal traditions within the ritual, political, and spiritual landscape of Maya cenotes .....	209
Leah Tavasi
18. ‘The Graveyard of Ships’: the maritime archaeology of the West Coast Trail.....	221
Ella Speckeen	