

Contents

List of Figures.....	xv
List of Tables.....	xx
1. Background and Issues.....	1
Fourth into Third Millennium BC: The Uruk (LC3-5) and Early Early Bronze (1/2).....	1
Mitchell S Rothman
Changing Paradigms	2
Pottery style, function, and the Uruk expansion	5
World Systems Theory	8
The Role of Trade.....	9
Sub-regions of Mesopotamia from the Fourth into Third Millennium BC	12
Mid to Late Third Millennium (middle and Late Early Bronze (EB III and IV)).....	31
Petr Charvát
Tilbes and Geography.....	31
Pre-Akkadian period.....	31
Akkadian period	32
Post-Akkadian period.....	35
Questions and Structure of the Volume.....	38
Mitchell S Rothman
References.....	39
2. Stratigraphy and Chronology	57
Mitchell S Rothman
Stratigraphy of the Squares	57
Square E4a.....	57
Square E4b	60
Square AE 1–5.....	64
Chronology.....	67
Radiocarbon.....	67
Pottery Relative Chronology	67
References	81
3. The Evidence of Flora and Fauna	85
Environmental Issues	85
Mitchell S Rothman
Plant Remains from Tilbes Höyük	86
Naomi Miller
Laboratory Analysis	86
The Samples	87
The Taxa	89
Wood	89
Interpretation	94
Animal Remains from Tilbes Höyük	94
Bill Grantham
The Sample.....	94
Temporal Distribution and Analytical Categories	95
Bone Density and Differential Preservation	95
Wild vs. Domestic Consumables.....	95
Relative Abundance of Main Species.....	96
Analytical Categories	96
Harvest Profiles	98
Tilbes in Regional Perspective	99
Bone Tool Fragments and Unusual Specimens	100
Conclusions	100
References.....	101

4. Production and Function: Metallurgy, Lithics, and Pottery.....	105
Metallurgy in Eastern and Southeastern Turkey During the 4th and 3rd Millennium BC	105
Hadi Özbal and Fatma Haskan Arman
Introduction	105
Metal and Prehistoric Societies	105
Metal technology in eastern and southeastern Turkey during the 3rd and 4th Millennium BC.....	106
Metallurgy in Northern Syria	111
Metallurgy at Tilbes Höyük.....	113
General Conclusions.....	120
References	122
Early Bronze Age chipped stone industry from Tilbes Höyük (SE Anatolia).....	127
Inna Mateiciucová
Introduction	127
Methods and selection criteria for chipped stone artifacts	128
Results	128
Conclusions	142
Summary	152
Acknowledgements	152
References	166
Production and Function of Tilbes Pottery.....	168
Mitchell S Rothman
Interpretation	168
References	171
5. Functional Analysis of Contexts from Tilbes Höyük	173
Artifact Types and Distribution.....	173
Mitchell S Rothman
Artifact Types	173
Artifact distributions.....	176
References	182
Micro-Archaeology Analysis at Tilbes Höyük.....	183
Lynn Rainville
Micro-archaeology: methodological considerations	183
Micro-debris samples taken at Tilbes	183
Ethnographic and Historical Insights into the Archaeological Record at Rural Settlements	189
Discussion	192
Acknowledgements	192
References	192
Conclusions	195
Mitchell S Rothman
6. Ritual and Ideological Remains.....	197
Analysis of the Middle Early Bronze Age at Tilbes Höyük	197
Mark Schwartz
Stratigraphy	197
Summary and Interpretation.....	201
References	206
Symbols and Mortuary Behavior at Tilbes Höyük.....	208
Mitchell S Rothman
References	213
7. Discussion and Conclusions	215
Mitchell S Rothman
Does the World Systems Model work for Greater Mesopotamia in the Fourth and Third Millennia BC?	215
Patterns in the Middle Upper Euphrates and Local Activities and Adaptations at Tilbes Höyük.....	218
The Patterns of Adaptation and Selection at Tilbes Höyük.....	223
Middle-Late EB.....	227
Final thoughts.....	228
References	228

Appendix A: Locus Listing and Analysis	231
Appendix B: Pottery Dataset	243
Appendix C: Artifacts by Provenience.....	291
Appendix D: Animal Bone Data	305